Alternatively, selected participants are given the opportunity to produce prints of their series free of charge by a photo lab and have it sent to the project manager for free. After completion of all the exhibitions of the competition year, the produced prints will be sent to these participants on request at their own expense and for a production fee of 75 EUR. If the prints are not picked up by the participants six months after completion of all exhibitions or sent to them on request, they will become the property of the Kunstagentur Dresden. Alternatively, the participant may opt for a destruction of the exhibition prints within the period set forth in the previous paragraph (6 months).
